Thank you very much for enabling me to finish one of the most difficult challenges in my career in the best possible way. With your accessibility, professionalism and kindness you encouraged me to work hard and helped me to achieve a highly respected certification in the field. Because of your functional approach to teaching and concise problem solving I was very well prepared and didn't have any problems passing the CCIE R&S exam. I hope that we will work together in the future again. My recommendations for NIL Learning will go to the younger generations of CCIE experts as the right place to study on their way to achieving this career goal.
